Statement from District Attorney Sim Gill Regarding Judge Dever's Ruling

We respect the process of our judicial system even if it produces results that we may not agree with. As I have always said, the process needs to be respected, they are the rules by which we engage when we have differences of opinions.

The Salt Lake County District Attorney's office has a responsibility to forward cases for judicial review when we believe conduct violated the law and calls into question the actions of public servants.

We filed the criminal charges that we believed were appropriate. Consistent with our system of law, we accept the Court's determination.
